WHAT IS CLAIMED IS

1. A sticker comprising a first adhesive layer on one end side of a sheet piece formed into a predetermined plane shape and a second adhesive layer on the other end side of the sheet piece, wherein the second adhesive layer is provided inside the other end of the sheet piece and in such a position as to maintain a substantially plane-contact state when the sheet piece is attached to a predetermined object to which the paper leaf is to be attached or stuck and to maintain ease of peeling from the other end.
2. A sticker comprising a first adhesive layer on one end side of a sheet piece formed into a predetermined plane shape and a second adhesive layer on the other end side of the sheet piece, wherein the second adhesive layer is provided at an inward distance of about 15mm or more from the other end of the sheet piece and in such a manner as to maintain a substantially plane-contact state when the sheet piece is attached to a predetermined object on which the sheet piece is to be attached and to maintain ease of peeling from the other end.
3. The sticker according to claim 1 ~~[or 2]~~, wherein an adhesive layer is further provided between the first and second adhesive layers.
4. The sticker according to ^{claim 1} ~~[any one of claims 1 to 3]~~, wherein a length of an area between an end edge on the other end side of the second adhesive layer and the other end is set to be about one-fifth or more of a length of the sheet piece.
